YOUR SON, SCOUTING AND YOU

Most parents want their sons to grow up to be self-reliant, dependable, and caring individuals. Scouting has these same goals in mind for boys.

SCOUTING, Helping you Build Character

Scouting develops strong values in each boy. Scouting honors the home, school, and religion as the origins of our youths' values. Scouting's goal is to nurture and extend these values by emphasizing the Scout Oath and Law.

Scouting teaches first aid, swimming, outdoor skills, hiking, camping, and many other skills – like skills they will take with them into adulthood. Knot tying might seem a quaint and outdated skill in this computer age, but such hands-on learning helps boys realize their own potential for learning and mastering new skills. That builds pride and the confidence to handle challenges that cross his path. Scouting builds young men who are competent to handle the tough questions.

While every skill Scouting teaches is important, the self-confidence, fun, and sense of accomplishment boys get from skill-building activities are equally important. Each Scouting activity has the basic goal of building character. In Scouting for today and tomorrow, CHARACTER COUNTS!

SCOUTING IS FAMILY VALUES!

TONIGHT WE WILL:

- Inform parents/guardians and boys about Boy Scouting and the Boy Scouts of America
- Recruit boys and adults for Boy Scouting
- Select parents/guardians for leadership roles.

UNIFORMS

Uniforms are not required to join Scouting, but they provide a proven method for Scouts and leaders to display awards earned and show Scout spirit and pride. The Council also has a uniform assistance program to ensure that all deserving Scouts can have a uniform. For more information regarding “experienced uniforms” visit us on the Web at www.cnjbsa.org.

*PRICES SUBJECT TO CHANGE

BUT THAT'S NOT ALL...

In order for the many identified Scouting services to be provided for you and your son, the Central New Jersey Council needs to raise additional funds. To support the Scouting Program in all areas for 2006, we need to raise per boy an extra $125. Each year, usually in January, February, and March, all Scouting families are given the opportunity to participate in the annual Friends of Scouting Campaign to help support the annual cost of Scouting. You have an opportunity to help.

$125.00

Between now and the time when the Friends of Scouting Campaign representative visits your Troop, if you feel that the Scouting Program has had a significant impact on your son, please consider becoming a Friend of Scouting, and make a contribution to the on-going success of Scouting in making a difference in the lives of boys. You can make contributions online at www.cnjbsa.org or call your district executive at (609) 419-1600.

Building Character Across the State!

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY COUNCIL

Building Character Across the State

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The Boy Scout Troops in your area are members of a larger Scouting Family that is called the Central New Jersey Council, BSA. The Central New Jersey Council is a non-profit corporation whose responsibility is to provide the programs of the Boy Scouts of America (including Cub Scouting, Venturing, and Learning for Life) to all of the communities in its geographical area. The Council gives Boy Scout Troops, like the one your son is joining tonight, the tools and resources it needs to provide a quality character-building program for your child.

Due to the large geography of the Central New Jersey Council, it is divided into smaller groups called Districts. These groups provide localized support, training, and programming, in addition to local volunteer support. A local scouting professional is provided by the Central New Jersey Council to give leadership and guidance to the units you are a part of in your community.

Local camp properties are also provided and maintained for your use. Our camps are Kittatinny Mountain Scout Reservation and Yards Creek Scout Reservation. A highlight of any Scout's adventure lies in the great outdoors!

Boy Scout Values:

Boy Scouting is an exciting program for youth and adults who want to share in the development of young people.

Leaders of the Chartered Organization have made the commitment to adopt the program concepts and values of the Boy Scouts of America as an integral part of their outreach to the youth of the community.

It is the mission of the Boy Scouts of America to serve others by helping to instill values in young people and, in other ways, to prepare them to make ethical choices during their lifetime in achieving their full potential. The values the BSA strive to instill are based on those found in the Scout Oath and Law.

A Troop is made up of several patrols that work and hike and camp together. The first thing a new Scout learns is to leave the problems and influences of the "street" behind him. He immediately learns that his fellow Scouts are trying to live by a unique set of rules; rules that stress trustworthiness, loyalty, honesty, growth, and reverence. The Scout also learns the skills of Scouting: how to handle an axe, build a fire, cook a meal, pack a backpack, and pitch a tent.

The Scout Oath and Law become their guides to life. The Scout Motto is "Be Prepared." The Scout Slogan is "Do a Good Turn Daily." This helps the Scout learn to be of service to others.

The Spirit of Scouting directs Scouts to strive to make their Troop the best. To be the best, Scouts in each patrol must work together. Everyone must be in there, pitching in all the time to be the best kind of Scout. This begins with learning and understanding the basic ideas of doing things together in the Troop embodied in the joining tests shown in your Boy Scout Handbook (page 4). Upon completion of the joining requirements the new member is presented with his Scout Badge.

And then it is time to put the OUTING in Scouting through practice, repetition, Scout Skills, Troop hikes, overnight campouts, and experiencing fun and adventure.

The Scout Oath, which every member takes when he joins, is very important. Unless you want to live up to this Oath and this Law the very best you can, you shouldn't become a Scout. The Oath and the 12 points of the Scout Law are tough for anyone to follow, but the most important thing is that Scouts promise to do their best.

The real price of belonging to the Troop will be regular attendance at meetings and working toward all the things that make a Scout prepared.

WHO MAKES SCOUTING GO?

Scouting operates through volunteer leadership. Volunteer unit leaders are an example of Scouting's principle of service to others. Naturally, parents are a primary source of leaders in the Scouting Program. They volunteer not only to serve Scouting, but also to serve their son and his friends, and to have the chance to be a positive influence on the youth of the community.

For every position in Scouting, both youth and adult, there are guidelines and training available to show the way to success. Training opportunities are provided by the Central New Jersey Council and your Scouting District. Training dates are promoted on the Council Website, the Council Program Action Calendar, and through District e-mail for registered leaders. Some basics are offered on-line or in DVD format. Most require group sessions.

In your Troop, the Scoutmaster's (SM) position is similar to the president of a company. He or she will have a number of Assistant Scoutmasters (SA). The chairperson (CC) of this company is the Committee Chair who directs the actions of the Troop Committee (MC). Overseeing all of this is the Charter Organization Representative (COR) who reports to the Chartered Organization Head (IH).

On the youth level, the Senior Patrol Leader (SPL), through advice and consent of the SM and the Troop Leaders Council (TLC), directs the operations of the whole Troop through the elected Patrol Leaders (PL). The SPL is assisted in various Troop functions by his staff; including: Assistant Senior Patrol Leader (ASPL), Quartermaster (QM), Scribe, Librarian, Historian, Den Chief Musicians, Bugler, and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster (JASM).

A Troop is made up of a number of Patrols, under the guidance of its Patrol Leader. There will be an Assistant Patrol Leader (APL), a Patrol Quartermaster, a Scribe and other leadership roles the Patrol may chose.

All activities, gatherings, and meetings are carried out under the guidance of at least two-deep leadership.

Parents of the boys are the primary source of volunteer leaders in the Scouting Program.

Volunteers are given specific training and tools to help assist you with your specific responsibilities.

As a leader, you will be helping to serve the youth of America, your community, and the Scouting Program which teaches values to the future leaders of America.

Volunteering for Scouting has many benefits:

- Satisfaction of being in a worldwide movement
- Privilege of helping to strengthen families
- Opportunity to be a positive role model to youth and adults
- The fun and fellowship that Scouting provides

“A hundred years from now it will not matter what my bank account was, the sort of house I lived in, or the kind of car I drove; but the world may be different because I was important in the life of a boy.”

-Walt Whitcraft

RANKS of Boy Scouting

New Scout Patrol: Onward to First Class

Advancing from Scout to Tenderfoot to Second Class to First Class, all in one year.

Yes, a focused Troop Program with enthusiastic, participating youth can climb the pathway to First Class within the first year of membership by mastering certain Scout craft skills.

- Each Scout is to be judged by the test of participation: his Attendance, his Appearance, and his Attitude.
- Each Scout is judged by the test of the Scout Spirit: in his heart, he tries to live by the Scout Oath and Law in his daily life. A Scout lives it in his Patrol and Troop, in his school, in his home, and in his religion. A Scout is a help to others and his daily Good Turn grows stronger and more challenging.
- Each Scout grows in his Scout skills dealing with the outdoors, having a healthy body, helping others and improving himself in regards to his family, his community, and his country.
- Each Scout sets goals of growth for himself through a Personal Growth Agreement with his Scoutmaster.
- Each Scout must pass a progress review conducted by his Troop Leaders.

Experienced Scout Patrols

When the Scout reaches the First Class Rank, he is on the way to the nationally recognized award of Eagle Scout Rank. Before him lies the trail of the Star Scout, Life Scout, and Eagle Scout. Now there are three more challenges that have been added to achieve the Eagle Scout Rank.

1. Each Scout must have a certain number of Merit Badges, some are required.
2. Each Scout must give leadership in the Troop in many different areas of opportunity.
3. Each Scout must do a service project that benefits someone other than the Boy Scouts.

TROOP BUDGET

The Troop prepares an annual budget to fund their "ideal year" of Scouting which includes activities, awards and advancements, recognition, etc. Troops fund the annual budget in many ways. Dues may be charged to each Scout to help fund the budget. However, most Troops participate in the Council-sponsored Trail's End Popcorn Sale which offsets or eliminates Troop dues for Scout families, and also helps boys raise enough money for their summertime camp experience. Your Troop leadership can give additional detailed information about your Troop budget and the See the 2006 Popcorn Sale—this helps the unit budget. Prizes include DVD Players, a drawing for nights at a water park, and NBA tickets too!

SUMMER CAMP OUTDOOR PROGRAMS

The Central New Jersey Council provides a full range of traditional summer camping opportunities for your enjoyment. Summer camp is the peak of an exciting year in Scouting. It is a time to enjoy the outdoors, to learn new skills, and to have fun with friends. Summer camp is the adventure that puts the "outing" in Scouting!

Boy Scout Resident Camp offers a varied program of outdoor skills including: swimming, boating, archery, rifle and shotgun shooting, nature studies, handicraft projects, and Scout camping skills. Do not forget the Tin Man Competition (Iron Man with a Heart); Kittatinny Mountain Man Program, featuring low COPE elements, mountain biking, kayaking, and other special activities; and our Brownsea Island (First Year Camper) Program to help our newest Boy Scouts start along the Scouting Trail. Come try out a sail boat or see how high you can climb on our 30-foot climbing and rappelling tower!!!

We invite you to be part of the fun, adventure, and excitement of our camping programs this summer!

Boy Scout Resident Camp is offered during four different weeks each summer. Scouts can attend with their troop or sign up as an individual to come to camp. During the summer of 2006, Boy Scout Resident Camp will be open:

July 9-15, 2006
July 16-22, 2006
July 23-29, 2006
July 30-August 5, 2006

The Central New Jersey Council offers a week-long National Youth Leadership Training Course (NYLT) at Yards Creek Scout Reservation in Blairstown, NJ. The NYLT Program is geared to help build leadership skills for all Scouts who are currently in or plan to be in positions of leadership in their Troops. Those Scouts who become Senior Patrol Leaders (SPL) or anticipate becoming an SPL are encouraged to attend. This program offers the best that Scouting has to offer in leadership skills development, troop program administration, and overall camping skills. For the one-week program, Scouts will live in their own tents and cook their own food. Led by expert staff, participants will get hands-on experience and training. This will enable them to bring home many new ideas for outings and skill building activities.
